Former foes become allies

As the activity of the Jedi Academy squad decreased over the past few months, a decision has been made, that will (or already did) surprise many people.

To create a new and strong generation of Team-aXiom, many players of Team-aXiom's old arch rival *aiming (formerly known as [A]) will from now on play with fellow aXiom members under the same tag.

At the same time, some other top players who already played for Team-aXiom in the past, also joined us back to .

From the former *aiming we may welcome:
dev, soxaz, kamui, elixir, seph, Serra, syLezz

Also, we are happy to welcome back:

mrl, fab1, Slither, Shirasaya

This new lineup, consisting of players from two of the most-respected teams in Jedi Knight history, might easily be the strongest Team-aXiom ever and will not stop playing together until even the last of Ravensoft's master servers shuts down forever.
